

THE FIRST INTERNATIONAL WORKSHOP ON
ADVANCES IN LANGUAGE PROCESSING &
HUMAN-CENTRIC AI

ALPHA Workshop'2026

CALL FOR PAPER

ALPHA 2026 invites researchers, engineers, and industry experts to submit original research papers, case studies, and practical applications addressing cutting-edge developments in NLP. The workshop provides a platform to share innovative ideas, practical insights, and interdisciplinary perspectives, highlighting both theoretical advances and real-world implementations. The accepted papers (after a double-blind peer review) will be published in the proceedings of the COCIA 2026 conference (indexed in Scopus).

TOPICS OF INTEREST

- Transformer-based Language Models (Fine-tuning, Transfer Learning, etc)
- Text Classification & Sentiment Analysis
- Information Extraction and Retrieval
- Low-Resource methods for NLP
- LLM agents
- Resources & Evaluation (Datasets, Benchmarks, metrics)
- Generative NLP : Summarization, Question Answering, Machine Translation ...
- Multimodal & Cross-Modal NLP (text + image, video, speech)
- Explainability, Interpretability & Fairness in NLP
- NLP Applications & Frameworks (healthcare, education, finance, legal, etc.)
- Human-Centric AI in NLP

IMPORTANT DATES

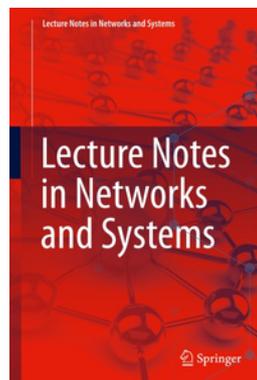

Paper Submission Deadline:
February 02, 2026
Notification Deadline:
February 28, 2026
Registration with reduction:
March 15, 2026

WORKSHOP CHAIRS

- Pr. Houda ANOUN, Hassan II University, houda.anoun@gmail.com
- Pr. Nasser HABBAT, Hassan I University, nasser.habbat@uhp.ac.ma

PUBLICATION

All papers accepted and presented at the ALPHA WORKSHOP 2026 will be published in a proceedings book by LNNS Springer.

WORKSHOP TPC

- Pr. Hicham Nouri
- Pr. Fatimazahra Ammor
- Pr. Omar Zahour
- Pr. Imane Lmati
- Pr. Souad Eddarouch